Week 18 Lit Example Worksheet

REVISING A SHAKESPEARE JUDGMENT

Purpose: Use the reader to build a visible revision trail from an early Shakespeare judgment to a precise, evidence-based logical analysis.

Part 1: Macbeth — Read the Model

Question 1.1

In the assisted model, what does the early claim notice, and what does it oversimplify about the apparition's words?

Part 1 Q1

Question 1.2

State the model's revised judgment and explain why it is stronger than "the witches lie."

Part 2: Macbeth — Name the Revision Trail

Question 2.1

Identify the evidence, inference, and action in Macbeth's response to the promise. Which logical habit best tests the inference?

Part 2 Q1

Question 2.2

Write a reflective caption for the model revision: original, diagnosis, substantive change, and what the change shows about judgment.

Part 3: Brutus — Diagnose and Revise

Question 3.1

An early response says, “Brutus cares about Rome, so his decision is logical.” Diagnose one exact weakness in that response using the passage.

Part 3 Q1

Question 3.2

Write a revised judgment that preserves what the passage supports while testing the move from possible danger to necessary death.

Part 4: Caption and Portfolio Connection

Question 4.1

Write a reflective caption for the Brutus revision. Name the original limit, the Whately criterion, the textual change, and the stronger judgment now possible.

Part 4 Q1

Question 4.2

Compare the two revision trails. What recurring habit of disciplined reading do both make visible, and how could that habit improve one Shakespeare artifact in your portfolio?

Part 4 Q2
